Homecoming Day Huge Success

Alumni Celebrate Return of Football To The College

The Junior College faculty, student body, and football team combined to provide gala entertainment for the many alumni who attended Homecoming Day last Friday. A fine program was arranged and carried out by those in charge. At six p.m., a barbecue was provided in the gym for early arrivals. At 8:00 o'clock the football game was played between Tennessee and the Tupelo Military Institute, with Tennessee coming out on the long end of a 39-6 score. Besides witnessing a flashy brand of football, the alumni were treated to a brilliant display of fireworks between halves. The Martin High School band provided music for the occasion, and between halves gave a drill exhibition which culminated in the playing of the Alma Mater. Directly after the game, in the interval remaining until midnight, a party was given in the gym. The gym was very beautifully decorated and music was furnished by Prof. Parrish and his orchestra.

The large crowd of alumni which attended exceeded the expectations of the sponsors and they were well pleased with the results of their efforts.

Reed Awarded Alpha Zeta Freshman Cup

Aaron Burns Reed was recently awarded the Alpha Zeta Freshman Cup. The cup is awarded annually by Alpha Zeta, honorary fraternity, to the student taking the Agricultural curriculum who makes the most outstanding record during his freshman year. This student is considered to be the nearest to the ideal type of future farmer.

The record on which the award is made is based on scholastic standing, demonstrated ability for leadership, future promise, and other activities participated in during his freshman year at the University of Tennessee Junior College.

Aaron Reed was born on a farm near Martin. He is 19 years old, and a younger brother of Maynard Reed, a former U. T. J. C. student, who made an excellent record in Agriculture. Aaron attended the Chestnut-Glade High School and was valedictorian of the 1931-32 senior class. During his high school career, he participated in basketball, tennis, and dramatics. He also made an outstanding record in 4-H Club work. He is a member of the Chestnut-Glade F. F. A. Chapter and a former president of that organization.

Reed made a scholastic average of above "B" which was the highest average made by any freshman at the Junior College last year. At present he is secretary-treasurer of the Ag Club and a member of the All-Students' Club, Debating Club and Student Christian Association. He is very studious, popular and seems to be "another chip off the old block."

The beautiful Alpha Zeta Freshman Cup has been awarded to: Edward Jones, 1931; J. C. Flake, 1932; A. B. Reed, 1933. WHO WILL IT BE IN 1934?

New Dining Hall The College Center

Eats and Socials To Be Within The Walls of This Modern Building

Following is a description of the specifications of the new dining hall under construction on U.T.J.C. campus.

The foundation and structural floors consist of reinforced concrete. The exterior walls will be brick similar to the brick used in the adjacent buildings. The roof will be covered with Yorkshire tile to harmonize with the other roofs on the campus. The design of this building follows the Georgian colonial style of architecture.

The lobby and dining hall are to have terrazzo floors with a smooth polished surface. The walls of these two rooms will be covered with pine in natural finish and the ceilings will be beamed ceilings with plaster surface. The dining hall will have a spacious fireplace at one end of the room. This hall will seat approximately two hundred people at one time and can be used for social gatherings as well as for dining purposes.

The kitchen will be wired for electric cooking and mechanical equipment. A ventilation system will be installed which will exhaust the air from the kitchen by means of an electric driven fan, changing the air in this room every two minutes.

A serving room with food counter will be located between the kitchen and dining hall and the service will be cafeteria style.

The basement, under the kitchen, will have storage space, a laundry, and ample wash rooms for the students and workers.

The building will be screened throughout with aluminum screens.

It is intended that this building shall serve as the center of the social life of the college. While the Junior College is young, it has already developed a distinct spirit which has grown along with the architecture of its buildings.

Marr and Holman, the architects, have wrought this feeling into the design of this building and they feel sure that their design will be faithfully executed by the contractor, J. B. Regen, of Nashville, Tennessee.

Miss Burney Elected Vice-Pres. Lib. Assn.

Miss Mary Vick Burney has been elected vice-president of the Tennessee Library Association at the session of the regional conference of the American Library Association held in Memphis during the past week. Mr. F. K. W. Drury of the Nashville Public Library, was elected president, and Miss Irene M. Doyle of the Peabody College Library staff, secretary-treasurer.

Dedication of New Dining Hall

Fitting Ceremonies Are Held, With Miss Jean Heidelberg Breaking Dirt

The start of the work on the new dining hall and social building of the University of Tennessee Junior College was celebrated on Monday, October 15, with dirt-breaking ceremonies. Miss Jean Heidelberg, president of the Home Ec Club of the College, wielded the first spade of dirt with the hope that "the building here to be constructed shall be a classroom wherein boys and girls shall learn how to eat intelligently and with good manners, without which no one is really educated." Two hundred and fifty students and faculty witnessed the long delayed starting of work on the building to replace the small frame buildings which has been used as a dining hall.

Executive Officer Paul Meek addressed the students briefly, telling them of the contribution the College has made to the vocational life of the people in providing low cost education in agriculture and home economics in this section of the State. University Trustee George Rowlett also made a few brief remarks in which he referred humorously to the many delays preceding actual work on the building. More elaborate plans had been made for the exercises but these had to be abandoned due to the fact that plans are being rushed on the work now that it has been begun.

J. B. Regen of Nashville, the contractor, is represented locally by S. R. Underwood as foreman. Although the building is to be completed in one hundred and twenty days according to the time allowance part of the contract, Mr. Underwood will do all possible to complete the building in record time, weather permitting, he stated. Marr and Holman, also of Nashville, have carried out the same general plan of other campus buildings in the new structure as may be seen from their drawing shown above.

The new building will cost approximately $30,000.00 with equipment for use. H. A. Acy is the PWA representative of the government on the construction job, known as PWA project 1058-C. It will not be ready to turn over to the College until some time after the first of the year.

Dean Willson Pays College Visit

Dean C. A. Willson arrived here Saturday night from Nashville to pay the College a brief visit. After conferring with College officials he left on the Monday afternoon train for Knoxville. The Dean expressed himself as well pleased with progress made at the College since his last visit here, at the opening exercises.

Half Way Out, Junior Vols Have 3 Wins

Miss. Junior College Here Friday Night For Licking

Vols Flash Brilliant Offense To Overwhelm Mississippi Team

Celebrating the homecoming of Alumni and other Tennessee boosters the University of Tennessee Junior Vols marched to their third consecutive victory under the brilliant array of varicolored fireworks to defeat the Tupelo Military Institute by the crushing score of 39 to 6, before a crowd of several hundred enthusiastic fans. The hard-hitting T. M. I. eleven has won the distinction of being the first team to score against the rustic Orange and White. Pushing their way far into the enemy's territory, the Junior Vols did not allow the opposing team, except for a spurt here and there, to get a glimpse of the goal line. Time and again the local team threatened the goal line of the opposition, but failed in the try for a touchdown because of the inflexible resistance of the T. M. I. eleven and the muddy condition of the field. With grim determination the visitors fought stubbornly against the clock-like precision of the human avalanche thrust against them.

The Vols, through their timed passing and determined line plunges, began their scoring at the very start of the game. Charlie Finley made several prominent gains by sprinting around the whole of the visiting team. Roney, receiving a pass from Billy Taylor, dashed across the goal

Home Ec Club Will Sponsor Hallo'en Hop

Plans are going forward for the big social event of the Fall season, the annual Home Economics masquerade. The party this year will be held in the gym on Wednesday night, October the 31st.

On this night when witches come forth to ride their brooms and spooks forsake the realms of darkness and invade the realms of light, the giggles and gigolettes of the Junior College, arrayed in the brightest and weirdest of Halloween attire, will meet together in frolic and revel until the clock strikes the hour, and darkness must once more reign supreme.

First Student Directory Issued

The Student Christian Association is issuing a directory of all students attending the College. This is the first year that such a directory has been issued, and with the increased enrollments at U.T.J.C. the usefulness of such a directory will doubtless justify the expense of the directory. It will carry the students' name, college address, phone, degree for which registered, and a list of all organizations of the College with their personnel. Bill Cowan, Virgil Luck, Hollis Franks and Jean Heidelberg compiled the data for the directory. Miss Florence Elliott is the sponsor of the Association.

CONCENTRATION

The formation of clubs on the campus has been a more popular practice this year than ever before. In a student body of scarcely more than two hundred there exist not less than twelve clubs and organizations of both a professional and social nature. As a result there is much overlapping in the membership and leadership of the clubs. Doubtless these clubs all have a definite purpose, and are, for the most part, beneficial to the students; however, it is an accepted fact that in any line of endeavor concentration is the determining factor of success. If we consider the fact that in many cases a single student may hold several positions of leadership in the various organizations, the question arises whether or not that student can effectively handle the responsibilities of these positions with his attention thus necessarily divided. One of the principal functions of a college organization is to develop in the student qualities of leadership. Therefore, would it not be better to allow the student to concentrate on the administration of one position and thus have a better opportunity to develop fully his powers of leadership, rather than to have him in several positions of leadership which he could not possibly hope to effectively exercise?

As for the clubs themselves, the ultimate result of the present overabundance is that their effectiveness is greatly decreased, whereas fewer clubs would make for greater concentration and cooperation and allow for a state of mild competition, a condition which enhances the efficiency of any enterprise. Therefore, in the interest of the above facts, it is our opinion, that lest existing conditions should become worse, proper authorities should assume control, and provide for the limitation, if not the consolidation of such organizations.

BACK THE TEAM

Our football team is more than living up to the hopes and expectations of its backers. The coaches have placed a team on the field that is displaying plenty of pep and fight. But the Junior College this year has not only a good football team, it has also a capable crew of cheer leaders and plenty of leather lunged students. These cheer leaders are more than fulfilling their tasks and furnishing all the inspiration necessary, but the students are not fully doing their part. Potentially, those students who occupy the cheering section are capable of shaking the props from beneath our ancient dining hall with the strength of their yells, but actually, the cheering has at best been lackadaisical. It has been lacking in vigor, the spontaneity, the enthusiasm characteristic of supporters of a victorious team. The attitude toward cheering seems to be one of solemn duty, rather than a natural and logical outburst. It is in this phase of school life more than any other that non-participants in athletics can display loyalty, school spirit and love of the institution. Let's more than justify the courage our team is displaying. Let's do our part in the stands as they are doing theirs on the field, and let's make the walls of old U. T. ring with our yells.

ASSEMBLIES

Tuesday, October 9.

Chapel opened with Mr. Meek presiding. Student directory cards were filled out. A number of announcements were made, including the announcement of work to begin on the dining hall within a few days.

The following meetings were held after chapel:

Dean Meek and class officers.
Gene H. Stanford vs. Student Labor.

Home Ec Club members.
Assembly closed with all freshmen singing the "dear ole" Alma Mater.

Thursday, October 11.

Mr. Meek presided. Several announcements were made. Prof. "Pop" Cravens awarded the Alpha Tau Alpha Freshman Cup to A. B. Reed. Reed was awarded this club on the merits of making the best record of any ag student during the past year.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in practicing yells. The cheer leaders were Luck, Derryberry, Hughey, Tinker, Weldon and Dennis.

Tuesday, October 16.

Mr. Turner was in charge of chapel. Several announcements were made and freshmen were asked to buy freshmen caps. Mr. Turner made a brief educational talk on "Getting Ready For Mid-Term Examinations". We were fortunate in having with us Dr. Harrison, head of the Health Department of Obion County. He gave the student body an interesting talk on the subject of T.B. Here are main points discussed in his speech:

1. Tennessee has the highest death rate from tuberculosis of any state in the union.
2. The major cause of death is trying to hide the infection.
3. Students of college age are susceptible.
4. Tuberculosis is not inherited and hard to trace.
5. Over 90 per cent of students have been infected sometime during their life.
6. Students should practice the following to throw off the disease: Eat wholesome food, avoid excesses, take care of body in attacks of other diseases, avoid exposure and leave off liquor and other intoxicants.

Dr. Harrison received a big ovation from the student body.

Thursday, October 18.

Miss Elliott presided over the student assembly. Several announcements were made. We had the pleasure of having with us, Rev. W. W. Armstrong, pastor of the Methodist Church. He was introduced by William Cowan.

This is a brief summary of his inspirational talk: The sun is one great light of the world. By it we are fed, nourished and would perish without it. Christ is the analogy in the spiritual world to the sun in the physical world. He is the true light without which man is in darkness.

A man is never bigger than he thinks he is. As a man thinks, so he acts. Man must think right to be right. Think right, live right and be SOMEBODY.

CAMPUSOLOGY

U.S. & CO.

The girls upstairs in the dormitory have turned professional. We have a barber shop, beauty parlor, dancing school, physician and a second Dorothy Dix.

Ask Nellie what is in a name!
We hear that Emma likes sweet potatoes!!

Girls, beware of coca-cola bottles. The proper place to keep them is on the floor.

We all wonder who the guy is that passes by the dorm around 12 p.m. and blows the "flussy" horn.

Fisher told us that he would soon have something besides a fence running around his house.

What's this we hear about Ruth Owen's room being on fire? The fire engine really came out.

Why does Lou like to go to Hickman?

Boys, be sure to stay away from the girls' windows at night! Ask Elizabeth and Christine about the price.

Who is Flossie's new flame?

Mary, where is the tan V-8?

Why wouldn't Rob H. go driving without "his gal" Wednesday night?

Josephine, please hang your wash in the hall instead of in the windows.

Do Red and Virgie Lee like peaches? Well I'll say!

Is Estelle Bailey deaf?

Cile, how is "wuck"?

Tommy Wood pulled the horn off of a car lately. We wonder why?

What two girls in the dorm are afraid of a cemetery at night?

Several girls wonder how to act on a date after two weeks' intermission.

Where has Ann Ozier's "gift of gab" been lately?

Who is the new "boss" of the girls' dorm?

Ask Helen Mae how she liked the circus.

A FRESHMAN'S PRAYER

This prayer was overheard by a Sophomore while passing a Freshman's room last Tuesday night:

Mr. DeMoss is my teacher and I am distressed.

He maketh me study most diligently;

He giveth me outrageous assignments;

He tormenteth my soul;

He maketh a goat of me for his class' sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of learning;

I shall acquire no grade, for he is against me;

His glares and his frowns they terrify me;

I propose a report for him in the presence of mine classmates.

He filleth my head with facts—my brain runneth over.

Surely D's and F's shall follow me all my college days and I shall remain in his classes forever.

Lord, do have mercy on me, a homesick freshman.

CO-EDS GIVE BOYS AT U. T. NO QUARTER

KNOXVILLE, Oct. 12.—(AP)—University of Tennessee boys can now get a date for a quarter.

Co-eds can get dates without cost.

Miss Marion Robinson, university senior from Knoxville, today announced the opening of a "date bureau" at the university.

Students wishing dates, Miss Robinson said, will file their applications along with a description of themselves. Miss Robinson then sorts out into the "best fitted couples" and arranges the date.

"This bureau is to aid the students in meeting and knowing each other," Miss Robinson said.

Wise Cracks and Loafer Junior

Joe White wishes to announce that "we" are going out on a Texas prairie.

Will Home Ec Club "goats" butt?

Miss McFee had just finished a lecture on the importance of cleanliness.

Peggy—I know a woman who hasn't washed her hair in years.

Margaret—Maybe she has it "dry cleaned."

Fisher (to a group of dormitory boys)—Boys, I am rating today; I just got a letter from Nashville "honey", one from her mother, and the father has just finished speaking to the minister.

Jenkins, did you know that Miss Shofner was running the Dining Hall?

"Sugar Tree" seems to fancy sleeping in the theater. Wonder if he has a "bed fellow"???

Thelma seems to want more. More of what? More of Moore, of course.

A certain "Ford" is attracting King. Is he going to Dixie??

We should have a good school year since Luck is with us again. Glad to have you, Virgil.

Thimble Theatre has given U. T. J. C. a turnout this year:

Popeye—Bolton.

Olive Oyl—Miss McCain.

Wimpy—Gordon.

One of the Jones Boys—Clifton.

June Vanriple—Miss Bushart.

Alice Goon—??? (I nominate Miss Wisner).

Oh! Well, maybe there is something in a nickname.

Cowan, have you seen her yet???

Prof. DeMoss—Could you tell the Lake County girls how to hold a hen???

Does Jean still hear from Herbie? Why didn't Marion Pearson go home Sunday?

Gene Stanford seems to be in his second childhood. He even plays football with the kids.

TWO FORMER U.T.J.C. STUDENTS COMPLETE WORK AT MEMPHIS

Mary Sander, a Martin Alumna of U.T.J.C., spent the week end with her parents here recently. She is now senior surgical nurse in the General Hospital at Memphis. Mary took the two year course in Home Ec before entering U. T. Medical School at Memphis. She will graduate in December with the B.S. and the R.N. degrees.

John M. Parish, another pre-med here and at Knoxville, finished his course work at Memphis October 10, and entered on 18 months of internship at the General Hospital after a few days' vacation here with his many friends.

VISITORS AT JUNIOR COLLEGE

Miss Ethel Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Young of Nashville, was the guest of Miss Martha Ellis the past week end. During her stay here Miss Young attended the Homecoming Day football game between the Junior Vols and T.M.I. and also the alumni dance which followed.

Miss Robbie Hart of Lexington and Miss Elizabeth Jones of Woodland Mills, both former students, were the guests of Miss Katherine Harris.

Mr. Harry (Moon) Mullins of Lexington, former U. T. J. C. student, was also a visitor here during the week end, remaining as the guest of Mr. Frank Goff.

line for the first touchdown of the game. He also accounted for another in the third quarter. The second quarter saw the T. M. I. team driving deep into our territory for the first touchdown to be made against the Junior Vols this season. Browning plunged through the stiff wall of the T. M. I. line for the second touchdown for the Vols. The Volunteers ran amuck in the second half by adding four more touchdowns to their already enviable score. These touchdowns were made by O'Guinn, Roney and Greeson, with the latter accounting for two. Passes made most of the points for the Junior Vols.

A very interesting and spectacular part of the occasion was the brilliant display of fireworks before and at the half of the game. Bombs and other devices were sent far up into the heavens and seemingly faded away only to burst out into all the beauty of the many colored stars, then to trickle down upon the fighting players. Two large balloons were released from their moorings at the half. They drifted higher and still higher into the unknown and finally faded away into the dimness of the western sky to awake the countryside from its peaceful slumber. Few have seen a more beautiful sight than that of the fireworks on Friday's Homecoming event.

The Tupelo team is unquestionably the fiercest opponent the U. T. Junior Vols have encountered thus far. Their relentless fighting spirit proved to be a severe handicap to the Vols until the final whistle was blown. Several wearers of the Orange and White came out of the fracas with slight injuries, but these players will in all probability be back in the fight when they meet their next adversary.

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW, just ask a Freshman. He'll make to your question the wise reply, "If it's not numerical, why then it's alphabetical, or maybe a little of both." For he has the librarian's box of tricks at his fingertips these days.

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW, just ask a Sophomore. He'll tell you a story of CWA, of once upon a time, and of nothing being just where it ought to be. Wasn't the depression awful?

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW, just ask the Squad. They'll tell you a tale of hammer and saw, of soap and water, of dust-pans and brooms. They'll enlarge on the virtues of sizing and paint and tell you that huskiness paid.

AND YET AGAIN, if you want to know, just ask the Staff. They'll show you the books, all shining and new, which luck has thrown in our way.

We are dependent to a large extent upon outside sources in gathering this information. If you have the "low-down" on any of our alumni please send it in.)

Charlie Detchen, Goodlettsville, and "Mule" Moore, Tigrett, are in school at Knoxville. They are both members of the University of Tennessee Dairy Products team, which recently won second place in a contest held at Waterloo, Iowa.

Theron Bracey, Joelton, Dan Wooten, Munford, Percy Henry, Oakland, Bill Roberts, Sharon, W. W. Smith, Greenfield, Herbie Dood Covington, Ben Rowlett, Kenne'h Stephens, Burns Hannings, Mary and Dorothy Warren, Helen Hoffman, Robert Walker, Lovejoy Whitcomb, Virginia Louise Parrish, all of Martin, Eason Hendrix, Bethel Springs, Doris Luk, Denver, Doris Tate, Rutherford, Mary Tenny Jeter, Dresden, Helen Hatcher, Greenfield, and J. C. Flake, Paris, are also attending the University at Knoxville.

Robert Brandon, Martin, is completing his third quarter at the U. T. Medical School in Memphis. Clyde Sharpe, Rutherford, is in Vanderbilt, and is also studying medicine. Preston Parks, Somerville, is attending Law School at Lebanon completing a course in "Politics." Russell Duncan, Martin, is in Bethel and is star fullback of the championship Bethel College eleven. You'd better watch out for those Junior Vols, Russell. Woodrow Forbes and Clifton Pritchett are coaching the strong Munford High School football team. Forbes finished at T.P.I. and "Pritch" received his degree at Knoxville.

Louise Hurt, Newbern, is teaching near Newbern. She has been attending State Teachers College in Memphis while her pupils picked cotton. Paul Morris Flitts, Martin, who received his B.S. at Knoxville, is teaching science at Ducktown. Maribell Gibbs, Martin, is a teacher of Home Economics in Mar in High School. Katherine Moseley is teaching Latin and French in Greenfield. Lila Johnson is a teacher in the Tennessee Industrial and Agricultural School for Boys in Nashville. Gladys White, Rutherford, is teaching school near her home. Sarah Bassham, Bethel Springs, who has been assisting Zora Shofner in the management of the dining hall, left Sunday for Bethel Springs where she will teach in the Bethel Springs Grammar School. Ruth Mary Kennedy, Martin, who managed the dining hall so ably last year, is now engaged as a school teacher near Martin. Can you imagine Ruth Mary teaching? It seems that our dining hall matrons prefer dispensing knowledge to dispensing food.

Ruth Morgan and Fillmore Lyons, both graduates of the Junior College, have at last embarked on the sea of matrimony. Lenore Glasgow, Martin, while attending the University of Kentucky was married to Mr. Tom Marshall of Lexington, Ky. Hardin Smith, Decaturville, has married a very attractive school teacher, and is engaged in farming near Perryville on the Tennessee River. John Holliday, Holliday, finally fell victim to the little fat boy with the bow and arrows, and both he and his wife are teaching school near Camden.

Pete Looney, Collierville, winner of the Kruessi prize last year, is attending Texas A. & M. Pete writes that he has a typical Texas cowpuncher for a roommate. Better not try any of your pugilistic stuff on that baby, Peter.

There'll be lots of new names and lots of new dope in the next issue, so watch out. We may get to you next.

CLUBS

Life Saving Club.

The Life Saving Club met Wednesday, October 17, for the purpose of electing new officers. The following were elected for the year:

President, Joe W. Prichard; Vice-President, William B. Cowan; Secretary and Treasurer, James Henry Jonakin; Sergeant-at-Arms, Grooms Heron; Reporter, Clifton Jenkins; Sponsor, Miss Florence Elliott.

Old members of the Club are: Jane Kendall, Harold Hoffman, Mr. Gattlin, Kermit Trimm, William G. Sadler.

The regular meetings of the club will be held bi-monthly, on alternate Mondays in the swimming pool room.

Ag. Club.

The Ag Club met Wednesday night, October 10. There were about 30 members present. The following program was rendered:

1. Duties of Ag Club Member, Jenkins.
2. Growing of Crimson Clover, Prof. Cravens.
3. The Alumni of F.F.F., Clifton Jenkins.

Mr. Cravens made a very educational, practical and interesting talk on growing crimson clover. The following points were discussed thoroughly:

1. Plant seed from August 17 to September 10.
2. Have a firm seed bed.
3. Sow 15 pounds seed per acre.
4. Use 200 pounds super-phosphate per acre.
5. Liming is helpful.
6. It makes five to seven bushels seed per acre on average.
7. Brings a return of $30.00 to $40.00 per acre.

Plans are being made to organize an Alumni F.F.F. Chapter at U. T. Junior College. All F.F.F. alumni interested in organizing a chapter are urged to see Clifton Jenkins. He will read you the constitution and can give you information about the organization.

The club will meet next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. The program for the next meeting is as follows:

1. Talk on Breeds of Poultry, Joe Vineyard.
2. Value of Cover Crops, Sam Oziel.
3. The Use of Lime on Soil, Jenkins.

Visitors are always welcome.

Pre-Med Club.

The Pre-Med Club met Tuesday evening, October 16 at 7:30 o'clock in the Science Building. The purpose of this meeting was to decide on Club colors and motto. It was decided that the colors should be red and white and the motto, "Thoroughness, Efficiency and Service." The Club meetings are to be held every other Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. The next meeting will be held at the home of Frances Young, October 30.

The Debating Club.

The second meeting of the Debating Club was held Thursday night, October 11, with a large crowd in attendance. Darnal Gordon, president, opened the meeting with a short talk on the purpose and aims of the club.

Several new members joined the club, and these were cordially welcomed by Professor Phillips, faculty sponsor. An invitation is extended to all students to attend the next meeting.
